State Bank Issues Would Not Afford Needed Relief.

Mr. Springer's Idea of New Securities for National Banks.

when it convenes in regular Navy-Yard.

The beginning of December The ordering of the Ranger and Mo session at the beginning of December

Springer, of Illinois, Chairman of the House Committee on Banks and Currency; Senator Voorhees, of Indiana. Chairman of the Senate Committee on nance, Congressman De Witt Warner, of New York, and others have been engaged in frequent consultations with the President, Secretary of the Treasury, the Comptroller of the Currency and tration, with a view to legislation which will provide a larger and more converti-ble circulating medium without involv-ing any financial or political embarrassing any financial or political embarrassments that would grow out of a revival of the flat money days.

When aaked for a copy of the measure understood to be under consideration by himself and his colleagues, Mr. Springser stated that it could not be given out in d-tail until it had met the full approval of the various other members of the Committee over which he presided.

country.

"The reason of this is obvious, A great many States in the Union have adopted constitutional previsions prohibiting the charter of banks in those States, with authority to issue circulating notes. Such notes, therefore, could only be of local value, and while some States would provide a safe system, the experience of the past shows that irredeemable issues of paper money would flood the country, that counterfeiting would be universal and the currency system of the country would be thrown into confusion.

"What is required and demanded by the country is a National currency which shall at all times be convertible into coin on demand, which shall be elastic in on demand, which shall be elastic in character, sufficient in volume, and so distributed throughout the country as to respond to the wants of trade and prevent congestion. respond to the water vent congestion. "I don't think the present National "I don't think the present National banking system has proved itself ade quate to the demands of the country There are less than $200,000,000 of Nation There are less than $200,000,000 of National bank notes now in circulation, and there is no prospect of an increased circulation unless more favorable legislation to the banks is assured.

"The near approach to the time when National ion 14 w be due and payable, the limited volume of such bonds of this kind and their high prices in the market prove conclusively that other security for circulation must be resorted to.

"With proper regulation under Government supervision the bonds of States, of counties and of certain municipalities can be utilized for the purpose of securing a National circulation, and all State banks as well as National depositing such securities ought to be permitted to take out currency to at least 90 per cent, of the par value of such bonds.

"Efficient provisions bound be seadefeath."

Emcient provisionshould be made for the requiring of additional security in case of the slightest depreciation of these securities. The Government should assume all responsibility for the redemption in coin on demand of such notes, and provisions should be made therefor by a coin reserve equal to a release.

Club of Birmingham, who desired to protest against the proposition now pending to place iron ore and coal on the free list.

Chairman Wilson, in denying the request of the Birmingham manufacturers, states that the Committee long ago closed its public hearings, and that to now make an exception for the Commercial Club would be to open the way for numerous other delegations which are demanding to be heard.

Congressman Magner, of New York, is protesting vigorously against the placing of cotton bagging on the free list, and has announced to the Democratic members of the Ways and Means Committee that he will vote against their bill if it contains this provision.

Congressman Bland, of Missouri, has also come to the front lately in the role of one of those dissatisfied with the proposed Tariff bill, and is reported as threatening to vote against the bill and fight it on the floor of the House if it places wool on the free list.

The Hearing on Mr. Conley's Death Goes Over.

William McDermott, gripman of the Broadway cable car which ran over and killed P. J. Conley at Broadway and Thirtieth street last night, was arraigned in Jefferson Market Court this merning. Owing to the absence of two material witnesses the hearing went over until to-morrow. Bonds in $2,500 were furnished for the appearance of the prisoner.

The accident was witnessed by a number of people. Mr. Conley was a resident of Woonsocket, R. I., and had arrived in the city in the afternoon. He was registered at the Plazh Hotel. He (It there to attend Palmer's Theatre, and alighted at Thirtieth street. As he supped on the uptown track a car came rushing upon him. He seemed paralyzed for a moment, and then sprang back, but not quick enough. The platform of the car struck him on the wheels, He died within twenty minutes. Mr. Conley was forty years of age. He was Fresident of the Woonsocket Rubber Company, which has a New York office at 84 Reade street.

Mr. Conley's body was still at Roth's undertaking rooms, 524 Sixth avenue, this morning. It was said that as soon as the toroner's permit was received the body would be shipped to Woonsocket, R. I.
